

EDUCATION & TRAINING

We offer a range of products to support people who want to pursue a career in the education, training and skills sector.

Our regulated qualifications are available from Level 3 to 5. These qualifications provide skills and knowledge to learners wanting to enter the sector with no teaching experience through to those with experience looking to take the next step in their career. We also offer suite of vocational accredited courses with academic study skills creating pathways to degree level study for students around the world, including the One Awards Level 3 International Diploma in Education and Teacher Training.

One Awards, part of NOCN Group are specialists in creating qualifications designed to prepare students for degree level study, working closely with a large number of UK Universities and are regulated by QAA (The Quality Assurance Agency for Higher Education in the UK).

Articulation agreements are in place with partner UK universities to support international students to progress to higher level studies in the UK if they wish or progressing to online degree programmes in some subject areas.

One Awards have used their experience in creating pathways to degrees to produce a range of Level 3 International Diplomas which give students the study skills and subject content to prepare them for further study in a broad range of subject areas.

One Awards International Diplomas are developed, accredited and quality assured by One Awards to QAA standards and their content is designed with further progression to degree level study as the key outcome for students.

OUR PARTNERS: INDIAN SOCIETY FOR TRAINING & DEVELOPMENT (ISTD)

NOCN Group and ISTD have joined forces on an exciting new partnership to deliver an 'Internationally Certified Trainer Programme' in India.

The Government and private sector in India are undergoing rapid transformation when it comes to innovation, Foreign Direct Investment (FDI) and the rise of its 'start-up culture', and this has led to increased job creation. With the younger generation now constituting the largest segment of the working population, this demographic needs to be developed and channelled in a way that nurtures their energy and potential. Human Resources teams within organisations therefore need to be focussed on efficiency and productivity when it comes to training their trainers.

Trainers are key to driving this forward in every type of organisation and ISTD will build flexible employer-led programmes and qualifications for individuals, employers, employer groups and communities, helping Indian business to thrive and grow. NOCN Group will provide independent validation and endorsement for the programme as well as Quality Assurance standards and International Certification of the ISTD courses delivered.

“NOCN has been designing and operating consistent and reliable vocational skills assessment tests and examinations for nearly 30 years. We are delighted to be able to support ISTD by quality assuring and providing international certification for their new courses.”

The Master training of trainer programme has been designed to cover all aspects of how to deliver the NOCN Internationally certified training manager programme. This programme is designed to give a full learning experience with both knowledge and practical activities to enable learners to apply the skills developed during the training from, the pre course activates needed to identify an organisations training needs for the individuals who will be taking part. How to use training needs analysis and initial assessments to identify what the training needs are. How to use the gathered information to design and develop effective, inclusive training programmes and course content that is both engaging and motivational, that can be fit for face to face or virtual learning environments. How to deliver the training programmes effectively to maximise the success of the training. How to deliver the training programmes ensuring full participation and impact of the learning is taking place and also how to manage classroom and challenging behaviours. The benefits of evaluating the training programmes and how to do them.
